Dear members of the Commission:

This letter is to express our strong disapproval of the changes made or proposed by Mr. DeJoy. They are completely counter to the mission of promptly and effectively delivering letters and packages.

Removal and dismantling of high-speed sorting equipment makes no sense. Doing so slows mail routing and delivery. USPS should add more.

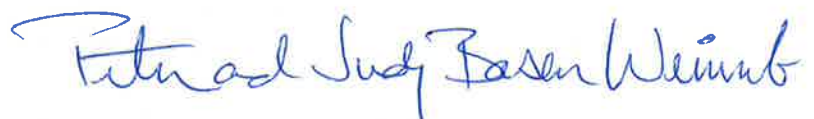

Transporting mail via truck rather than via scheduled aircraft flights slows mail routing and delivery. Furthermore putting more vehicles on the road adds to air pollution and consumption of fossil fuel. Those airplanes are flying with or without postal cargo.

Slowing delivery by shortening letter-carrier hours will inconvenience postal customers, especially those who receive medications via the mail. Closing post office branches will inconvenience customers, especially those who have something other than a first-class envelope to send.

Mr. DeJoy's proposals serve as a case study example of what NOT to do to attract and retain business. We urge that you reject them outright.

The prepayment of postal service pension funds for an excessively-long time frame is more folly, but that's a matter for Congress.

Very truly yours,

Peter and Judy Basen Weinreb
